PRICES FOR 1933--Novelties of Exceptional Merit

PLANT ROOT

Mrs. John C. Metzger (Derring-Do, 1932) F. Dec. 5.00 10.00

This dahlia exceeded expectations during the very dry season just past. The four top flowers in the picture of this year's exhibit show this dahlia to be something more than, "Just another white dahlia." The stem is perfect and its blooms last exceptionally long. It happens to be one of a few dahlias that has been overlooked, probably due to the fact that it was featured in only one show. A large leaf variety with dark green foliage.

WHERE IT WON FIRST

This dahlia has been turned over to me by Mr. John C. Metzger, President of the Irvington Garden Club, and is a white Mrs. I. de Ver Warner which, in itself, means a whole lot.

It was the winner of First Prize for best seedling, New Jersey origin, Northern New Jersey State Show at Kearney in 1930. This Informal Dec. has heavy stems 10 to 19 inches long, flower 7 to 8 inches by 2 to 2½ inches deep and blooms face well. Height, 6 ft. Grow to 4 canes, large leaf and flowering habit excellent, root ideal.

Diana Bourbon (Fisher & Mason, 1932) C 1.25 2.50

A lovely flame colored true cactus dahlia with good keeping qualities in the garden and for exhibitions. It is a free and early bloomer, good habit of growth, stiff straight stems and as large as cactus dahlia usually grow. Large leaf, grow 4 canes, dig normal, root ideal.

Full Moon. (Ballay, 1932) For. Dec. 5.00 Plants Only

Canary Yellow. Here is a variety that can truthfully be called a superlative dahlia. The big bold flowers, easily measuring 12 inches across, are regularly formed of very broad flat petals that terminate in a perfectly full and artistic center. The thickness and strength of the stem and particularly noticeable and the flower is always upright. This is a grand dahlia and Mr. Ballay is to be congratulated. Large leaf grows to 4 canes and dig wide at harvest time as its roots are long, but well balanced.

King of Yellows (Shattuck, 1933) I. D. 5.00 10.00

Last season, when Dr. Shattuck urged me to buy this dahlia, I wondered? Well, no need longer to wonder, it is a beauty and I regret that I have not more of it. This dahlia will need very little, if any, "boosting," even if in competition with "American Legion." The Official Trial Ground reported it as follows:—"Score 85, informal decorative, light clear yellow, a good yellow, flowering habit prolific, stem 10 to 18 inches growing outward rather than straight up, size of flower 6 to 9 inches, depth 2½ to 4 inches, height 4 ft." Read that report again and you will understand better that I have not over rated this dahlia. It grew equally as well for me and better. Dark heavy leaves, crown out and grow to 6 canes.

Lavina Broomall (Broomall-Success, 1931) C. 1.75 3.50

Very large and unusual in form and color. Profuse bloomer, large flowers, perfectly stiff stems. The color is light orange-yellow to capucine-yellow and slightly shaded coral-pink. Height 3 ft. Leaf not large, grow to 4 canes and dis-branch and dis-bud severely.

PLANT ROOT

Maid of Orleans (Van Zandt, Derring-Do, 1933) Sing. 1.50 3.00

Pure White flower, heavy in texture, 2-2½ inches in size and faces ideally. Very clean grower. The stems are exceptionally long, thin and stiff, many being 16 to 22 inches, dark green leaf medium in size. Height, medium. Grown out and grow to as many canes as possible. Roots are ideal, dig normal.

Murphy's Masterpiece (Murphy-Success, 1932) Inf. Dec. 5.00 Plants Only

A huge, deep, dark-red shading towards garnet, and a flower that grows large without encouragement. The color in this flower does not bleach and its petals hold from rim to center thruout the duration of the bloom which is remarkably long. It was on the 1931 Honor Roll and has rightfully won many prizes, also a Certificate of Merit at the trial grounds. This is another dahlia that all of it grew for me a 100%, and during the worst drought season at that. If all dahlia enthusiasts liking size and red could see this flower no discription would be necessary for the sale of it. Large leaf, grow to 6 canes and dig wide at harvest as the roots are long and not well balanced.

Myra Howard (Glutzback-Dahlidel, Inf Dec., 1932) 3.75 Plants Only

Winner of the American Home Achievement medal at the A. D. S. show in New York. A grand dahlia in every respect and deserves to be rated near the top with such varieties as Kathleen Norris, Jane Cowl, Ft. Monmouth & Dr. John H. Carman, & other big fellows of the spectacular coloring and size. This is just naturally a big flower and one of the most attractive plants we have seen, with uniform, thrifty growth and plenty of bloom with extra long stems. Our impression of its color was "pure gold with a rose sheen" which glistens in the sunlight. Throughout the deep flower are conspicuous petalodes that give the flower distinction in both form and color. A seedling of Jane Cowl, and as grown in the originator's garden one of the most free flowering it has ever been our privilege to see. Stems straight and stiff, foliage very dark green, plant of tall habit of growth.

Satan (Ballay, 1932) S. C. 7.50 Plants Only

This flaming scarlet with orange-salmon at the base of each petal will surely be a temptation to any dahlia fan and he'll never regret yielding to this color sensation. The exquisite coloring is at once fascinating with a most remarkably good formation and stem. The blooms regularly measure 10 to 12 inches in diameter and 6 inches deep. Its a 1931 Honor Roll Dahlia and should be grown to 4 canes. At harvest time dig wide for the root is very long, but well balanced.

Yellow Wonder (Broomall-Success, 1930) Inf. Dec. 2.50 Plants Only

It is a strong rugged grower with very large blooms held erect on the best of stems. It is a deep rich yellow of Aztec Glory tone without any of the latter bad habits. This dahlia has made many friends and there is little wonder about that for it has every thing. Grow to 4 canes and dig wide at harvest time, its roots are long and well balanced.

HARDY PRIMULAS

GENERAL CULTURE. Primulas will not thrive in a thin, poor soil. The ground where they are planted should be dug two feet, and the soil prepared as follows: Two-thirds rich soil, containing leaf mold, one-third peat, and a top dressing of fine stones. Most primulas require half shade. Those used in the rockery like full sun. All demand plenty of moisture at their roots but stagnant water on their crowns is fatal. Good drainage is important. The use of cinders and sand is recommended.

DERRING-DO DAHLIA GUIDE

This Splendid Guide Tells You Everything You Should Know About Dahlias

Part One

HERE at last is a Guide that gives not only the complete romance about dahlias, but also the practical side as well. For many years there have been dahlia books available but the majority have proven cumbersome for the average lover, or else their scope has been far too limited. But here are definite, time-tested instructions that anyone can understand for the cultivation and care of every type of dahlia. It tells you when and how to start the seeds, whether indoors or out, when to set out plants, how to transplant, cultivate and water, how to care for plants, and the best kinds of soil for them—these are only a few of the essential details covered.

Just as much importance is laid on the artistic side of dahlia planting—whether you want dainty flowers or showy flowers, whether you want them for outdoor display or for cutting, for hedges, grouping, massing or distant effects.

Part Two

This section is devoted to a full description of over 200 different varieties of dahlias that are most outstanding with their prices.

In addition, each variety has leaf classification, how to grow for best results and a description of type of root as an aid at digging time.
